

By speaking out for democracy in Iran,
Shirin Ebadi has earned imprisonment, disbarment, death threats

and a Nobel Peace Prize.
Surely, she has also earned your ear for an evening.

Shirin Ebadi of Iran 2003 Nobel Peace Prize Winner

She's an Iranian lawyer, writer and teacher who took an unwavering stand to promote democracy and human rights in Iran. Especially for women and children. She distributed evidence implicating government officials in the murders of students. She has been jailed, disbarred, fined and receives death threats to this day. And still she speaks. Undaunted.

Come hear what she has to say about democracy, and feel the courage of a person who actually knows the kind of sacrifice that our country's founding fathers knew.
